Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2016. Paperback. Book Condition: New. David a Russell (illustrator). 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Its holiday time, and Carter Thompson is visiting his favorite bookstore on Black Friday at the Southwest Regional Mall. Suddenly, his shopping is interrupted by the sound of gunfire, screams and explosions. Drawn to the commotion, Carter finds himself standing in a doorway, frozen with fear, watching a terrorist close in on a family of four. Choosing between running to safety or saving the family, he decides to move forward and engage the gunman. Unbeknownst to Carter, the father hed saved is a retired Delta Force colonel. As the carnage mounts, Carter and the colonel join forces and engage in a running gun battle inside the mall. The remaining Islamic terrorists are hell-bent on killing as many Americans as they can. After the attack, the retired Col. Doug Redman befriends Carter. Doug feels a debt of gratitude to Carter for saving him and his family. In a meeting afterward, the two men learn they share the same view about their country; America is in distress and grave danger: An unsecured Southern border, staggering debt, a demoralized and depleted military and enemies infiltrating the country at will are just a few of their shared concerns. They both believe this is a direct result of the cesspool of corruption in Washington, D.C. At the conclusion of the meeting, Doug takes Carter into his confidence and invites him to train with him and three other retired special-force operators at a secluded training facility. The group is joined by two of Carters closest friends, and all of them go through a number of weeks of live fire training. They then learn of an elderly husband...
