If the station of observation were situated in a balloon floating over a level plain the only consideration to be taken Reduction to sea level. ii 1 1 into account would be the greater distance from the earth s centre. Now the attraction of a sphere of radius  $R$  on a point on its surface is  $g_0$ --- where  $G$  is the attraction of unit mass. If the point is above the surface 4 TT  $R$  by the height  $h$  the attraction becomes  $g = G + t$  Hence-i  $g = K$  or  $g_0 = g (1 - \frac{h}{R})$  neglecting the term in  $h^2$ . When, however, and this is the common case, the observations are made on terra firma we have to consider that be Correction for intervene mass. f, ., ., between the surface of the sphere and the pendulum there is a quantity of matter which is exerting an attraction, and this must be allowed for before we can deduce from our observed  $g$  what the value of gravity at sea-level would be. If the station is on an extensive plain, or in country which does not...
